Samy told Amimour be back "delighted" a stay in October 2012, shortly before their arrest, Al-Mouadan in Tataouine in southern Tunisia, genuine "jihadists incubator" in Tunisia post-Ben Ali, according Attorney Benjamin House.

During the investigation , Al-Mouadan had emerged as the leader of the group, "obviously the most charismatic, the most decided, the one with the more intellectual facilities" , says House. It was he who had led his friends in a shooting gallery (https://www.google.fr/url?

They violate their judicial review to leave for Syria

The three individuals were eventually arrested in October 2012 for "association of terrorist criminals," then left free under judicial checked before leaving a year later to Syria. There, they became friends with other jihadists, including Omar Ismail Mostefai Abaaoud and Abdelhamid, who will participate in the attacks of 13 November (/attaques-a-paris/visuel/2015/11/25/enmemoire_4817200_4809495.html) .

According to the army American, Charaffe Al-Mouadan, Franco-Moroccan, 26, was killed Dec. 24, 2015 during a strike in Syria. But the formal proof of his death has not been established, the prosecutor Benjamin House does not rule out possible "subterfuge", citing "recent examples of people we thought dead and who were not".

Bouabout and Al-Mouadan, always within the scope of a European arrest warrant, will be further considered later, this time for their activities in Syria.
